

Political leaders are responsible for executing the administration's ambitious agenda. To drive change and make a difference, appointees must be familiar with how to navigate and succeed in a complex federal organization.

“I can’t tell you how many times I have leveraged the support the Partnership provided prior to my confirmation! It has really made a difference.”

FORMER DEPUTY SECRETARY

PARTNERSHIP
FOR PUBLIC SERVICE

As a trusted advisor on the presidential transition and the development of federal leaders, the Partnership for Public Service is uniquely positioned to quickly get political executives up to speed. Through Ready to Govern®, we prepare individuals to manage in the federal government and deliver results for the American people.

We offer a series of courses featuring proven content developed from hundreds of conversations with federal leaders. These sessions are led by a bipartisan faculty of current or former political appointees and career executives. Using their experience, they provide practical, actionable information to guide incoming leaders and help them streamline operations to make meaningful change in government.

We understand the importance of preparing and developing these individuals to govern as soon as they enter office, and our programs reflect that urgency. By relaying the most vital information appointees need, we can work to ensure they'll have an immediate impact in their roles.

SUMMER SERIES

Our 90-minute courses emphasize the most relevant information appointees need to do their jobs effectively. Participants will increase their expertise and executive skills by engaging in meaningful conversations with their peers and faculty, internalizing key lessons and best practices, and receiving actionable resources needed to implement proven strategies.

Executive Roundtable: Leadership and Employee Engagement

Tuesday, June 11, 8:30 a.m. to 10:00 a.m.
(Networking and registration from 8:00 a.m.)

Identify and develop leading strategies for effective employee engagement at your agency. This roundtable will spotlight data driven findings about engagement among different locality groups in the federal workforce and unpack how they might inform your leadership approach.

Recommended for senior political and career executives

Stakeholder Strategies: Working with the White House, OMB and Your Agency

Friday, June 28, 8:30 a.m. to 10:00 a.m.
(Networking and registration from 8:00 a.m.)

Recognize and learn to build and manage successful relationships with key players within the White House, OMB and at your agency.

Recommended for political executives

Executive Roundtable: Chiefs of Staff

Friday, July 12, 8:00 a.m. to 9:30 a.m.
(Networking and registration from 7:45 a.m.)

Prepare for and share expertise about being a chief of staff with faculty who have served in this unique position. You will connect with other chiefs of staff to unpack expectations of the role, see how responsibilities and key issues vary at agencies across government, and develop your peer network.

Specialty course for Cabinet- and component-level Chiefs of Staff

Location

Partnership for Public Service
1100 New York Ave NW
Suite 200 East
Washington, D.C. 20005

Learn More

For more information, please contact Chantelle Renn at (202) 292-1013 or crenn@ourpublicservice.org

Ready to Govern® is a program that provides educational services, namely, courses of instruction and leadership development trainings in the field of government management. Services are delivered, in part, through a learning and innovation center featuring fully customized leadership, motivational, educational and brainstorming trainings.

The Partnership for Public Service is a nonprofit, nonpartisan organization that works to revitalize our federal government by inspiring a new generation to serve and by transforming the way government works.

ourpublicservice.org
CFC#12110